

Triple Turmeric Px

*Optimal synergy of whole herb turmeric
Plus standardized active constituents*

Triple Turmeric Px delivers standardized levels of curcuminoids and turmerones combined with the supporting constituents offered in a whole herb base. The lead curcumin researcher Ajay Goel, PhD, has indicated there is a superior advantage to using the whole herb plus essential turmeric oils for synergistic benefits.

Turmeric is more than just curcumin!

Triple Turmeric Px is a liquid capsule combining organic turmeric root, 95% curcuminoid turmeric root extract and 40% turmerones from supercritical turmeric extract, for superior synergistic qualities.

Supercritical extract uses CO₂ as a non-toxic solvent to extract essential turmeric oil constituents, such as various turmerones and aromatic curcumene, and is superior to hexane solvents used for plant extracts.

In addition to essential turmeric oils, this formula provides added ingredients to enhance the bioavailability of active turmeric constituents. Non-GMO soy-sourced lecithin has been added as an emulsifier to overcome absorption issues related to the lipid soluble turmeric.

Formulation Features

- Triple Turmeric Px uses both phospholipids and the full spectrum essential oil. A study performed by Charles River Lab, Wilmington, MA, found no statistical difference in the absorption of curcuminoids when comparing Triple Turmeric Px to Meriva
- Lipophilic curcuminoids cross the blood brain barrier
- Turmerones support healthy neurotransmitter function
- Supports neural stem cell proliferation and neuroprotection
